Let's Start!

Vanessa tells Sally about a strange event at the restaurant!

Learning Outcome

Describe complicated or unusual events in the past through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you believe in tipping? How much do you tip?
- Should there be no tipping? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about coincidences and strange events.
- I can discuss experiences I have and haven't had.
- I can talk about things I was supposed to do.

Let's Explore!

The young couple didn't have enough money to pay the bill, so they dined and dashed.

* "Dine and dash" means to eat and then leave quickly without paying.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hey. V. Come in. I'm supposed to be writing, but I am feeling lazy.

Vanessa: Good, because I have a story for you.

Sally: Oh. Ok. Shoot!

Vanessa: Well, it was nine-thirty on Monday night. We are supposed to close at ten, but the place was dead. The servers were sent home early and the kitchen was closed.

Sally: Have you ever closed up early before?

Vanessa: Sure, sometimes. This older gentlemen comes into the restaurant, from out of the blue, and asks if he could see a menu. I say, "Sorry, but the kitchen is closed for tonight".

He says, "Is there anything because I am really hungry?" I say, "I am not supposed to do this, but I will look." The only thing we had was soup and bread. The soup was whipped up by the chef and I served it to the man and told him to take his time because it is not too late.

Sally: Have you ever done this before?

Vanessa: No. So, the man eats slowly and when he finished, it is after ten. I gave him the bill and took his dishes and when I came back, he was gone.

Sally: Oh no. Did he not pay?

Vanessa: I thought so. I have had customers dine and dash. Then, I looked down and saw a five hundred dollar tip and a note saying, "Thank you".

Sally: Wow! That was not what I was expecting. Have you ever had a tip that big before?

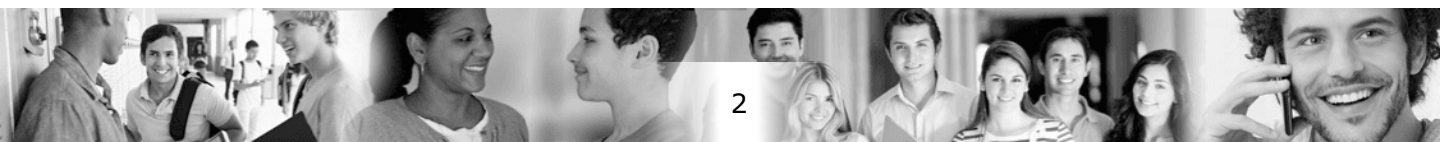

Vanessa: Haha. Yes.

Sally: What did you do with the money?

Vanessa: It was given to the staff.

Sally: You are a good boss.

Vanessa: It is what you are supposed to do.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa tells Sally what she has experienced at the store.

Instructions: Complete the sentences below by choosing from the options you are given.

have / closed / has given / had / have served / has sent

1. I _____ never _____ the store before 10.
2. Vanessa _____ the money to the staff.
3. I have _____ customers that dine and dash.
4. I _____ for late customers.
5. Vanessa _____ the waiters home.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa is not supposed to do that!

Instructions: Complete the text below by choosing from the options you are given are supposed to be working / I was supposed to be / will be

Sally: Hi Vanessa / what are you doing here? You _____ / aren't you? Vanessa: Oh! Sally / yes _____ at work at 8 but I have an appointment with some new clients. Please don't tell anyone. Sally: I'm not telling anyone but I did not expect you to skip work! Take your time to close that business / it _____ good for the restaurant. Vanessa: Yes / I know that's not how _____ but it's really important. He is a major partner.

Extension Activity

Role play a dining situation.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Brainstorm about personal experiences when you have had poor service in a restaurant and complained about it.
- With a partner, create a small dialogue between the customer and the server. The customer can be extremely obnoxious or the server can be.
- At the end, one of the you reveals that you are a game show host and gives a reward as a prize.

Target Words

- whipped up (verb): to prepare quickly
e.g. The soup was whipped up by the chef.
- dead (adjective): to no longer be exciting or interesting
e.g. The place was dead.
- out of the blue (idiom): when something happens suddenly e.g. This older gentlemen comes into the restaurant out of the blue.
- shoot (expression): used when you want someone to say something right away
Vanessa: Good, because I have a story for you.
Sally: Oh. Ok. Shoot!
- take your time (expression): said to mean that you can spend as much time as you need in doing something e.g. I served it to the man and told him to take his time because it is not too late.

Learning Points

The Passive Voice

You use the active voice when you want the 'doer' of the action to be the subject.
You use the passive voice when you want the 'receiver' of the action to be the subject.

Active sentence = The man (subject) left a big tip (object).

Passive sentence = A big tip (subject) was left by a man(object).

It is not always necessary to mention the object in a passive sentence.

You make the passive form of a verb by using tenses of the be verb followed by the past participle.

The Simple Present passive form is:

am/are/is + past participle

For example:

- The meal was prepared by the chef.

The Simple Past passive form is:

was/were + past participle

For example:

- The tips were divided among the servers.

Examples:

- It was given to the staff.
- The servers were sent home early.
- The kitchen was closed.

Learning Points

Be supposed to

You use the structure be supposed to when you want to talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements.

You can use be supposed to to talk about situations in the past, present or future.

The structure is:

subject + to be + supposed to + verb

Twelve people are supposed to decide whether the accused is guilty or innocent.

*Pronunciation tip:

When you say be supposed to, you link the /d/ and /t/ sounds together.

Like this:

Be suppose_to

Examples:

- We are supposed to close at ten.
- I am not supposed to do this, but I will look.
- I'm supposed to be writing.
- It is what you are supposed to do.
