

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Sally does Peter a big favor.

Learning Outcome

Describe unusual events through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever done a big favor for someone? What was it?
- Have you ever asked someone to do a big favor for you? What was the favor?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about coincidences and strange events.
- I can react and comment on a story.
- I can discuss experiences I have and haven't had.

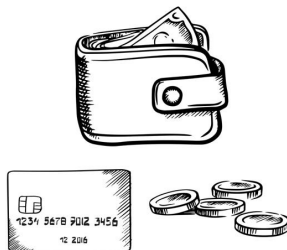

Let's Explore!

The mayor really rolled out the red carpet for the V.I.P's.

* "Roll out the red carpet" means to welcome with great hospitality or ceremony.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Oh Peter, what a misunderstanding. I have never heard a story that crazy before and Peter, it is not your fault.
- Peter: Really?
- Sally: No, it is your fault, Peter!
- Peter: Well, that's not the end of the story. My wallet was stolen also.
- Sally: Where? At the party?
- Peter: Probably.
- Sally: Well. You should not expect them to roll out the red carpet for you.
- Peter: What should I do?
- Sally: You need to go back and get your wallet.
- Peter: They'll be furious. I ruined the party.
- Sally: I doubt it! I'm sure they will not hold this against you.
- Peter: I'm really embarrassed though. I have never felt this embarrassed before and what if he wants to fight? I have never been in a fight. Have you ever been in a fight?
- Sally: Oh Peter. I'll go get your wallet.
- Peter: What? No, ... could you?
- Sally: Yes, I owe you.
- Peter: Thank you. Do you want me to come?
- Sally: No wait here. I will not be long.
- Peter: Oh my God. What did they say?
- Sally: There was a guy named Mitch. He was nice. Your wallet was found last night. It wasn't stolen. It was found lying on the floor by one of the guests. It was put in a drawer for safekeeping. He also said you will not have to worry about him being angry either.
- Peter: Really? Oh Sally, how can I thank you?
- Sally: Peter. You already have, but today, you can buy me lunch.

Let's Practice!

Sally reacts towards Peter's story.

Instructions: Re-organize the sentences below to create the correct storyline.

1. Well / that's not the end of the story.
2. You should not expect them to roll out the red carpet for you.
3. I will be not be long.
4. I'm sure they will not hold this against you.
5. It is not your fault.

Let's Practice!

Peter says how embarrassed he has felt.

Instructions: Complete the sentences by choosing from the words below. You can use the same word more than once.

hear / heard / felt / feel / be / been / seen / see / wanted / want

1. I have never _____ a story that crazy.
2. I have never _____ this embarassed before.
3. I have never _____ in a fight.
4. Have you ever _____ a fight?
5. She has never _____ to fight.

Extension Activity

That is an amazing coincidence!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- With a partner research an amazing or bizarre coincidence on the Internet.
- Write a short presentation for each using your own words.
- Separate from your partner and form a small group with other classmates.
- Go around the group presenting your story.
- After, vote on which story was the most interesting and prepare to explain why.
- Write a short paragraph sharing one of your most amazing or bizarre experiences.
- Later share with your group.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about coincidences and strange events.

☐ ☐

I react and comment on a story.

☐ ☐

I discuss experiences I have and haven't had.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- misunderstanding (noun): a minor problem caused by someone who misunderstood a situation
e.g. Oh, what a misunderstanding. I've never heard a story that crazy!
- roll out the red carpet (idiom): to give a person very special treatment e.g. You should not expect them to roll out the red carpet for you.
- furious (adjective): very angry
e.g. I ruined their party. They'll be furious!
- I doubt it (expression): if you doubt something, you are not certain about it e.g.
Peter: They'll be furious.
Sally: I doubt it.
- to hold something against you (expression): to think badly of something or someone because of something else; to blame something on someone e.g. I'm sure they will not hold this against you.
- to ruin (verb): to harm or damage irreparably
e.g. I ruined their party.
- safekeeping (noun): the fact of something being in a place where it will not be lost or damaged
e.g. Your wallet was put in a drawer for safekeeping.

Learning Points

The Passive Voice

You use the active voice when you want the 'doer' of the action to be the subject.

You use the passive voice when you want the 'receiver' of the action to be the subject.

Active sentence = TV (subject) influences children's behavior (object).

Passive sentence = Children's behavior (subject) is influenced by TV (object).

It is not always necessary to mention the object in a passive sentence.

You make the passive form of a verb by using tenses of the be verb followed by the past participle.

The Simple Present passive form is:

am/are/is + past participle

For example:

My wallet was stolen.

The Simple Past passive form is:

was/were + past participle

For example:

Your wallet was found on the floor by the door.

Examples:

- My wallet was stolen.
- Your wallet was found that night.
- It wasn't stolen.
- It was found lying on the floor by one of the guests.
- It was put in a drawer for safekeeping.

Learning Points

Position of not

When you want to emphasize that something or an action is opposite to what is expected, use not, rather than a contraction in the sentence.

For example:

They say they will not be angry at you.

They will not hold this against you.

The not shows a firmness on the part of the speaker while still being polite.

Statement	Meaning
They say they are not inviting you to another party.	They refuse to invite you to another party.
They say they are not angry with you.	They are not angry.
I did not, thank goodness.	I'm happy I didn't do something.

Examples:

- He also said you will not have to worry about him being angry either.
- I'm sure they will not hold this against you.
- You should not expect them to roll out the red carpet for you.

